Two New Websites Offer Resources, Tools for Property Owners

Owning a home is a wonderful part of the American dream, an opportunity that many of us enjoy. However, homeownership also comes with its share of challenges and responsibilities. REALTORS® in Iowa and across the nation recognize that although it's extremely rewarding to own a home, it's also a lot of work. They have developed two new websites to help you make smart decisions about your property.

The Iowa Property Owners Alliance was created by the Iowa Association of REALTORS® (IAR) as a separate entity to be a resource serving thousands of Iowa property owners in the state. The Iowa Property Owners Alliance (IPOA) is a nonpartisan, nonprofit, advocacy organization devoted to helping homeowners and all property owners in the state. The organization is issues-oriented, and is not affiliated with any political candidates or campaigns. Visit www.iowapropertyownersalliance.com, for information on legislative issues that may affect you and your property rights, direct links to your legislators, and much more.

HouseLogic.com

This new website was created by the National Association of REALTORS®. HouseLogic is a free source of information and tools on topics including home improvement, maintenance, taxes, finance, insurance, and even ways to get involved in and enrich your community. HouseLogic can help homeowners learn how to increase and protect the value of your home through confident, informed decisions. Visit HouseLogic.com for valuable information to help you care for your home.

The IAR and NAR have been champions of property owner rights and opportunities for decades. Helping consumers become more informed, responsible property owners is important for families' enjoyment of their homes, and also to the stability of the housing market.

Check out these two wonderful new websites for resources and tools to help you protect your property and care for your home. If you are interested in buying or selling a home, please contact Pro-Link Realty and ask for a REALTOR®.
